

Urmi is an Associate in the Family and Divorce Practice Group.

Prior to joining the firm, Urmi gained exposure to complex cases by being part of a team that regularly dealt with highly contested matrimonial matters in the Family Justice Courts and High Court.

Urmi graduated from the University of Auckland in 2021 and was admitted as an Advocate and Solicitor of the Supreme Court in 2023.

Urmi also has a keen interest in healthcare law. In addition to a Bachelor of Laws, Urmi has a Bachelor of Science (Life Science) degree from the National University of Singapore, which has equipped her with knowledge about scientific principles underpinning issues related to healthcare law.
